Richard Lawson Elected the Next Bishop of Alabama

The Very Rev. Richard T. Lawson, III, was chosen as the 13th Bishop-elect of Alabama at the electing convention held January 31 at the Advent. He currently serves as Dean of St. John's Cathedral in Denver, Colorado. See page 3 for more information.

A Word from Will Fagan

There's a big word that starts with a "J" that "we don't like to talk about at parties," to quote Jack Nicholson's character from A Few Good Men (1992).

We don't, frankly, like to talk about it anytime or any occasion. That word in reference is judgment (or judgement, depending on your persuasion).

If the mere mention of that word makes you shudder and you're tempted to turn the page, dear reader, please don't! I have good news!

In the natural course of life, it is a fact that we will be judged by people (and we will, sadly, judge others ourselves, often in response to our own being judged). We don't like being judged; it makes us cower, it makes us run, it makes us do anything we can do to "not feel that way."

Such is the reason why it is presently en vogue for many Christian thinkers to teach that God is not a God who judges us. This is incorrect – he does, and he must because he is the judge of all things, condemning all imperfection "in this present evil age," knowing there is "no one righteous, not even one" (Galatians 1:4; Psalm 14:3). Deep down I think we know that is true, and that makes us wonder where we stand with God.

Where is the good news, you ask?

I cannot convey just how true it is that Jesus came into the world to save sinners (1 Timothy 1:15). Which means – above all else – that someone, God's Son himself, stood before his Father in place of our own final hearing; and because of that, God Almighty has nothing but love for you.

This reality is not subjective, but objective. It is not speculative, but factual. Perhaps most importantly, it is not a reward, but a gift.

So, dear reader, if in this world you fear the "J" word in relation to where you stand with God, please don't. It is only with affection that he thinks of you, and there is nothing else for you – or anyone in heaven and on earth – to do to make that true.

- Will

(Nothing)... will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

- Romans 8:39

Advent House Prayer Ministry

Come to Advent House for Intercessory Prayer

The ministry of prayer at Advent House is for men, women, and couples who would like to come and request prayer for illnesses, broken relationships, losses, fears, doubts, or other difficulties in their lives. Prayer intercessors gather in the name of Jesus Christ and pray on behalf of each person who comes, trusting in and totally dependent upon the redemptive, restorative, healing, life-giving power of Christ Jesus.

If you would like to schedule a prayer appointment at Advent House (2317 Arlington Avenue South, 35205), please contact Kathy Logue (205-410-4622, Kathy@CathedralAdvent.com).

Inquirers' Class Series

Join Us Beginning February 22

Are you trying to decide whether to make the Advent your church home? The Inquirers' Class will help you make that decision. It's a seven-week series that will give you an idea of what the Advent believes and why. Our spring session will begin Sunday, February 22, 10:15-10:50 a.m. in the Diocesan Conference Room (entrance near the middle of the garden). Questions? Contact Fontaine Pope (205-443-8562, Fontaine@CathedralAdvent.com).

Lenten Preacher Event

Daniel Stulac at Cranmer House February 19

We hope you will join us on Thursday evening, February 19, from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. to hear our Lenten preacher Daniel Stulac reflect on themes from a forthcoming book.

Many of us will remember Daniel (right) as a preacher from last year. As an Assistant Professor of Old Testament at Briercrest College in Saskatchewan (and a former parishioner in Dean Pinter's parish in Moose Jaw), Daniel uniquely combines an incisive grasp of Scripture with an enlivening and compelling use of literature, art, and history. His talk is entitled Water into Wine and will focus on the Song of Songs.

Please feel free to bring friends to this event at Cranmer House. For more information, please call the church office or email Gil Kracke (Gil@CathedralAdvent.com).
